Human development refers to the physical, cognitive, and psychosocial development of humans throughout the lifespan. What types of development are involved in each of these three domains, or areas, of life?

Physical development involves growth and changes in the body and brain, the senses, motor skills, and health and wellness.

What Is Lifespan Development? | Introduction to Psychology

Think about the life span and make a list of what you would consider the periods of development. How many stages are on your list? Perhaps you have three: childhood, adulthood, and old age.

Or maybe four: infancy, childhood, adolescence, and adulthood.

Developmentalists break the life span into nine stages as follows:
